

Simone Pollo,
Associate Professor of Moral Philosophy at the Department of Philosophy of Sapienza University of Rome

SINERGIA

advanced technologies for drug discovery and precision medicine: in vitro modelling human physiology and disease

H2020-MSCA-ITN-2019
www.sinergia2020.polimi.it

Science, democracy and animal experimentation: the need for a debate

Sept 13th, 2.30-3.30 pm

<https://polimi-it.zoom.us/j/95436028667>

<https://www.linkedin.com/company/sinergia2020/>

Alik Cavaliere, "Civetta amore mio", 1978

Chair
Claudio Bernardi
COO Accelera Srl.

Dr. Simone Pollo main research interests are the ethics of human/animal relationships and the naturalization of ethics. He is MA in Philosophy at Sapienza University of Rome (1995) and PhD in Bioethics at the University of Genoa (2011). He is currently Associate Professor of Moral Philosophy at the Department of Philosophy of Sapienza University of Rome, where teaches "Ethics and Life Sciences" and "Bioethics" and is a member of the board of the PhD program in Philosophy. In the past he took part to EU funded research projects on the ethics of animal research. He is regularly invited as visiting professor at the Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona and at the Cardinal Stefan Wyszyński University in Warsaw. For twenty years he has been member and scientific secretary of the Bioethics Committee of the Rome Veterinary Surgeons Council (now Committee for Veterinary and Agroalimentary Bioethics).

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under the Marie Skłodowska-Curie grant agreement No 860715.

